

Paula Miller

Cognitive CoachingSM Foundations Training

The mission of Cognitive CoachingSM is to produce self-directed persons with the cognitive capacity for excellence both independently and as members of a community. Research indicates that teaching is a complex intellectual activity and that teachers who think at higher levels produce students who are higher achieving, more cooperative, and better problem solvers. It is the invisible skills of teaching, the thinking processes that underlie instructional decisions, which produce superior instruction. Cognitive CoachingSM is a research-based model that capitalizes upon and enhances teachers' cognitive processes.

In the eight-day Seminar, participants learn how to:

- develop trust and rapport
- develop an identity as a mediator of thinking
- utilize conversation structures for planning, reflecting and problem resolving
- develop teachers' autonomy and sense of community
- develop higher levels of efficacy, consciousness, craftsmanship, flexibility and interdependence
- apply four support functions: coaching, evaluating, consulting, collaborating
- utilize the coaching tools of pausing, paraphrasing, and posing questions
- distinguish among the five forms of feedback
- use data to mediate thinking

Paula Miller has been a Cognitive Coaching Agency Trainer and Training Associate since 2010. She has trained for districts in Colorado, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Washington, and Wyoming. Paula's background as a national literacy consultant developed from her 35 years of training and experience including teaching middle and high school reading and language arts, serving in campus and district level administrative positions, and directing professional development programs at the district and state levels. She recently retired from her position as the Senior Director of Education for a national literacy nonprofit organization.
