

Picture-Perfect Science: Using Picture Books to Guide Inquiry Workshop for K-5 Teachers

December 7, 8, and 9, 2015 (8:00 – 3:30 CST)

Workshop #50-16

Green River Regional Educational Cooperative • 230 Technology Way • Bowling Green

The Green River Regional Educational Cooperative is pleased to offer this two-day training for Elementary Science Teachers (K-5) with an optional third-day “Train-the-Trainer” facilitator session.

In the two-day workshop, K-5 Science teachers will:

- Learn how to use picture books to integrate elementary science and Common Core ELA Standards
- Participate in model lessons that connect science and the common core

Tight Budget and can only send one person? Send one teacher that can train the rest of your staff!!

What is even more exciting than the two-day training?

This two-day workshop experience will be followed by a third-day, in-depth, Train-The-Trainer facilitator training where you will have the materials and knowledge-base and learn how to facilitate your own Picture-Perfect Science workshops in your own school or district.

Participants attending the optional third day will receive:

- The two-day workshop experience, followed by an in-depth facilitator training on December 9, 2015
- Three Picture-Perfect Science Lessons Books (PLUS)
- An “Introduction to Picture-Perfect Science” facilitator guide containing PowerPoint presentations, handouts, and detailed step-by-step instructions to facilitating Picture-Perfect Science trainings in your school or district
- A flash drive with video of the authors and activities
- Six picture books featured in the model lessons
- Two ClassPacks of materials to use in your own teacher workshops

About the Presenters....

Karen Ansberry and Emily Morgan are the authors of the award-winning Picture-Perfect Science series from NSTA Press and co-authors of Teaching Science Through Trade Books. Classroom veterans who know that elementary teachers are short on time, Karen Ansberry and Emily Morgan designed the Picture-Perfect Science program to integrate science and reading in grades K–5. In 2002, in recognition of their innovative idea, they received a Toyota TAPESTRY Grant to further develop the program. Since then, they have facilitated workshops at elementary schools, universities, and professional conferences across the country.
