

A Unique Opportunity for New Teachers - The 5 Choices to Extraordinary Productivity

October 28-29, 2015 (8:30 – 3:30 CDT)

Workshop #045-16

Green River Regional Educational Cooperative • 230 Technology Way • Bowling Green

The Green River Regional Educational Cooperative, in collaboration with Franklin Covey, is pleased to offer this two-day training appropriate for ALL teachers (new teachers, experienced teachers, special education teachers, and mentor teachers) and administrators.

Franklin Covey's "The 5 Choices to Extraordinary Productivity" solution inspires participants to apply a process that will dramatically increase their ability to achieve life's most important outcomes. Supported by science and years of experience, this solution not only produces a measureable increase in productivity, but also provides a renewed sense of engagement and accomplishment.

About the Presenter...

Michael Swenson

Michael's professional career has been spent leading and managing in almost every conceivable sector: education, military, and corporate (non-profit, public and private). He is currently project managing a cost saving initiative to streamline the use of technology services in the College of Engineering and Computing and Information Sciences.

During the past ten years Michael has worked as a FranklinCovey client facilitator for a variety of companies and organizations including Cornell University, Yale University, Nextel, General Reinsurance Corporation, Aurora Community College and Pearl Development. As an independent leadership and management consultant and coach, Michael has consulted and coached managers and leaders at all levels; from entry level supervisors to CEOs and Presidents. He has facilitated leadership development courses for numerous companies and government organizations. Michael and his family live in Cortland, NY. In his spare time, he volunteers for his church, is an assistant scoutmaster for his sons' Boy Scout Troop, and is chairperson for a local Cub Scout Pack.
