

World Language/Global Competency Institute

June 16, 2015 (8:30 – 3:30 CST)

Workshop #122-15

Green River Regional Educational Cooperative • 230 Technology Way • Bowling Green

GRREC is excited to offer the World Language/Global Competency Institute!

KEYNOTE PRESENTATION

Stacie Nevadomski Berdan is a seasoned global executive, an expert on international careers and an award-winning author on the topic of how to succeed in the global marketplace. She has authored four books on the intersection of globalization and careers. Her most recent is Raising Global Children (ACTFL Nov. 2013). She has appeared on NBC's "Today Show," CNN International, ABC's "America this Morning," NPR's "Marketplace," and in the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, Time, Chronicle of Higher Education and the Huffington Post. Stacie has lived abroad and worked in more than 50 countries; she continues to counsel companies on global issues. She will be focusing on why global awareness is important, what raising global children means, and how to develop a global mindset for our institute.

During this institute, participants will:

- Learn to develop a global mindset and the steps to take to become a global thinker.
- Learn the critical role today's teachers play in preparing students for the global economy by bringing the world into the classroom and inspiring curiosity about other cultures.
- Learn more about the variety of digital media resources that Kentucky Educational Television has to offer and get a sneak preview of the new resources designed specifically for the World Language/Global Competency Program Review.
- Learn from districts with existing K-12 language programs.
- Learn effective World Language classroom practices and ask questions of the KDE World Language Consultant, Alfonso De Torres.
